

Remembering Vanni one year on: Patients at Ponnambalam hospital a year ago, when drugs were running out, the hospital in the safe zone was being targeted, and patients with open wounds were sleeping on plastic sheets